There's still time to register for the remaining seats at the Colorado Springs Command Academy that SmartForce is sponsoring the last week of October.

Typically, the training course on implementing more accountability to improve your organizational crime results runs $12,000 per agency, but with the SmartForce sponsorship your cost is just the registration fee of $395, and all meals are included!

In addition, other speakers will cover License Plate Reader & GPS technology, Use of Force updates, police reform State reporting requirements, police leadership, and more.

Everyone is busy, but take the time to learn how you and your agency can become more productive at this low-cost, high-value training conference.

Since IACP was cancelled, use those training and travel dollars to register now or reply back with questions so you don't miss out on one of the best in-person conferences of the year!
